CHURCH PULVERBATCH is a large parish, including the hamlets of Castle Pulverbatch, Cothercott, Wrentnall and Wilderley: Church Pulverbatch is near the old road from Shrewsbury to Bishop's Castle, 4 miles west from Dorrington station on the Shrewsbury and Hereford joint London, Midland and Scottish and Great Western railway, 4 miles south-south-east from Plealey Road station on the Shrewsbury and Minsterley joint branch line of the same railway and 8 south-south-west from Shrewsbury, in the Shrewsbury division of the county, Condover division of Condover hundred, Atcham rural district, Shrewsbury county court district, petty sessional division of Condover, rural deanery of Pontesbury, archdeaconry of Ludlow and diocese of Hereford. The church of St. Edith is a modern building of stone chiefly in the Early English style, built on the site of an old Saxon church; it consists of chancel, nave of three bays, north aisle, south porch and a western tower containing a clock and 6 bells; the church was re-opened after repair June 1, 1853, and has sittings for 241 persons. The register dates from the year 1542. The living is a rectory, net yearly value £549, including 44½ acres of glebe, with residence, in the gift of Wrekin College, and held since 1931 by Rev. Oliver Goodman Crockett B.A. of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge. A village hall was erected in 1921 opposite the church schools. Miss M. Perkins, by will dated 1856, left £400, now producing £10 yearly, and Miss Mary Ann Corrie, by will dated 1924, left £100, producing about £4 10s. yearly, which sums are distributed to the poor at the discretion of the rector and Parish Council. The land is mainly owned by the farmers. The soil is sand and loam; subsoil, rock with part clay. Barytes (or Spa) mines are worked in the parish. Coal mines are in the neighbourhood. The crops are wheat, turnips and barley. The area of the entire parish is 4,233 acres; the population in 1931 was 338.

PULVERBATCH (Church Town, or "Churton" as it is more familiarly called, to distinguish it from Castle Pulverbatch) has much romantic scenery in the neighbourhood, and is in close proximity to Cothercott hill with the majestic Wrekin in the distance

CASTLE PULVERBATCH is a small village, about half a mile south, on the high road from Shrewsbury to Bishop's Castle. The land is mainly owned by the farmers.

COTHERCOTT is a small village, 1½ miles south, prettily situated amongst the hills, from which pleasing views of the surrounding country may be obtained. John Bainton Walker esq. is the principal landowner.

WILDERLEY hamlet is about 1 mile south. J. B. Walker esq. is the principal landowner.

WRENTNALL is a hamlet about 1 mile north-west: the scenery around is of a pleasing character. Wrentnall House is the property and residence of Reginald Culcleth Holcroft esq. There is a Methodist chapel here. The land is mainly owned by the farmers.
